On the front of this two story frame house are three bays plus a two story polygonal bay window under a gable. Below the overhanging corners of this gable is an ornamental bracketed gallery with tracery. Across the front facade is an L shaped porch supported by turned posts. This porch has corner brackets with tracery, similar to those below the gable. Over the portion of the porch in front of the bay window, is a pediment. The house has been altered by asphalt siding.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house appears to have been built during the last quarter of the 19th century. There are several houses of architectural interest from this era along this block of Church Street and on neighboring Mill Street. The basic style of this house, an L shape with a two story polygonal bay window on the front, is similar to 701 and 703 Church Street and to many houses on Locust Street.
